Chicago Airport Is the Center of Aviation World

TENTH ANNUAL NATIONAL AIR RACES STAGED

THOUSANDS WITNESS START OF THE FIRST "OLYMPIAD OF THE AIR"

HUNDREDS OF AIRPLANES ROAR ABOUT, OFFICIAL OPENING THIS AFTERNOON

By SAM KNOTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Curtiss-Wright Airport, Chicago, Aug. 23.—This vast airport became today the center of the aviation world as thousands of persons gathered to witness the start of the tenth annual national air races, the first "Olympiad of the Air."

Notables of land, air and sea were here and hundreds of airplanes, large and small, single and multi-colored, stood about the field or roared overhead in flights preliminary to the official opening at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Race officials were confident the presence of such an array of aircraft and American and foreign notables would attract a crowd of 40,000 persons, the number the specially built grandstands will seat. The weather was clear and warm.

The day's activities included: Inaugural ceremonies, parade, bands, etc.

Arrival of two of seven national air derbies.

First of 50 racing events to be held during the 10-day meet.

Daring tactical exhibitions and maneuvers by army, navy and marine squadrons, with bursting of balloons.

Flight of Jimmy Doolittle in a speed "mystery ship."

Doolittle arrived late yesterday after a non-stop flight from Washington, carrying the personal well wishes of President Hoover for the success of the great "Olympiad."

The message was delivered last night at a banquet given in honor of Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd and attended by 1,500 persons.

Admiral Byrd was presented a life membership in the National Aeronautical Association. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Dr. Eckner and Orville Wright are among the select few who have been thus honored.

In an address broadcast throughout the nation, Byrd predicted the doom of the three-engine airplane unless some great improvements are made immediately and hinted he was planning some new adventure.

"I wish to announce," he said, "that I am in the market for the first airplane built that will fold up its feet like a bird and carry its engines in its wings. Such a plane can and will be built. I have a very definite use for it."

He paused while the assemblage grasped the importance of his announcement, then added, smiling:

"I am not, however, saying just where I am going to use it."

The first of the Chicago bound air derbies, an exciting two-man race from Brownsville, Texas, ends today before the crowd attending the opening of the national air races at Curtiss-Reynolds field.

Four other groups, two women affairs, neared the end of cross-country flights, hoping for favorable weather. Three of the derbies encountered fog and storms yesterday.

Curtiss-Wright Airport, Chicago, Aug. 23.—Fritz Looze, famous German ace, crashed in his big Junkers airplane today as the tenth annual air races, the "Olympiad of the Air," opened.

Looze crashed as he attempted to land his big plane at the north end of the field. He was uninjured. The motor failed and the plane fluttered and fell about 20 feet. The undercarriage was torn away but the plane otherwise was not damaged.

As Looze stepped from the wreckage, smiling, the first man he met was Arthur L. Caperton, who pilots Samuel Insull's plane, the Northern Light.

The last time Looze and Caperton saw each other was in China, several years ago, when they were fighting together.

Seeing Caperton, an old buddy of foreign air wars, made up to Looze for temporary loss of his plane. He and Caperton walked off the field, arm in arm. Looze was assured he would be furnished another plane for the races. The German has fought under five flags in his career as a soldier of fortune.

ROBERTS FORCED DOWN IN DERBY

Lorain, O., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Verne L. Roberts of Moline, Ill., leader in the Hartford-to-Chicago air derby, was forced down three miles west of here this morning, shortly after he and his four rivals took off from Cleveland airport on the last lap of their race.

JOG OFF ROOF DOES NOT BOTHER 72 YEAR PATIENT

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—A little jog off the roof before breakfast apparently doesn't mean a thing to 72-year-old Ralph Barthelme, patient at the Coleman convalescents home.

While sleepwalking last night, Barthelme stepped over the edge of the second story roof. He was found sleeping peacefully on the lawn this morning. He expressed surprise at his position when awakened.

Barthelme was taken to Grace hospital, where his only injury was found to be a bruised leg.

DROUGHT RELIEF CONSIDERED BY PRES. HOOVER

TOPIC UNDER DISCUSSION AT WEEK-END CAMP ON THE RAPIDAN

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM ALSO CREATED BY THE LONG DRY SPELL

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Orange, Va., Aug. 23.—President Hoover is devoting another of his week-ends at his mountain camp on the Rapidan to consideration of drought relief, this time in connection with the additional unemployment problem created by the long dry spell.

The president arose early to begin a series of conferences with army engineers in an effort to map out a plan to accelerate the Mississippi flood control building program as an aid to employment in states hit by the drought.

Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, and Col. George R. Spalding, army engineer in charge of the upper Mississippi and Illinois river projects, are guests at the camp who are expected to take a leading part in the discussions.

Hanford McNider, new minister to Canada, also was a guest, and it was considered probable that he would discuss with Mr. Hoover the problem confronting him in reopening negotiations to revive St. Lawrence waterway development.

Although inclusion of Spalding in the conferences indicates the whole field of inland waterways may be explored for employment possibilities, the principal flood control project to be considered today is understood to be creation of a large reservoir in North Dakota to hold waters of the Missouri river.

This proposal, suggested to Mr. Hoover recently by Rep. Sinclair, republican, North Dakota, is said to have found favor with Hurley who recently visited the region.

Half a dozen or more states which suffered from the 1927 Mississippi flood control action to provide employment for farmers near their homes.

Church services will be held for the first time tomorrow in the marines' messhall near the Hoover camp. Lieut. Commander C. A. Neyman of the navy chaplain corps will conduct the services and the president and Mrs. Hoover are expected to attend.

PRINCESS HAS VERY BLUE EYES

ONE-DAY-OLD DAUGHTER OF THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF YORK GREATLY ADMIRER

Glamis Castle, Scotland, Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—The one-day-old daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, whose birth was celebrated last night by 10,000 persons gathered in the light of a great beacon on Hunters Hill, was said to have eyes as blue as Scotland's skies and hair as fair as the golden curls of her four-year-old sister, Princess Elizabeth.

The new princess was described as a plump infant, weighing a little under nine pounds at birth.

The progress of the Duchess and the new princess continued satisfactory today.

"Her Royal Highness and the infant princess are both very well," said an official bulletin issued by Sir Henry Simson at 10:30 A. M.

Clearing weather permitted the neighbors of Glamis Castle and well-wishers for many miles around to gather on Hunters Hill last night to celebrate the birth of the princess so life, according to Glamis tradition, shall be pleasant, love shall be lucky and reward rich.

The high pile of brushwood built on the hill was lit soon after nightfall as the quiet little village was jammed with visitors from all parts of Scotland.

President Hoover Apparently Determined to Continue His Tax Reduction Program

HOPES TO DO SO WITHOUT HAVING TO BORROW MONEY

SUBJECT NOW EXPOSED IN FAVORABLE LIGHT AFTER MANY CONFERENCES

PRESIDENT AND MELLON HOPEFUL OF CONTINUING TAX INCOME CUT

By LYLE C. WILSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 23.—President Hoover apparently is determined to continue tax reductions established last year if it can be done without borrowing money to balance the national budget.

Whether this objective can be gained seems to be a question upon which the treasury itself changed its mind within 24 hours.

A day of hurried conferences and formal statements now leaves the subject exposed in its most favorable light with Mr. Hoover and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon optimistic of continuance of the 1 per cent reduction effective last year on corporate and normal individual income taxes.

With 16 more primary elections and three state conventions still pending preliminary to the November congressional elections, the treasury department's anonymous indication two days ago that the 1 per cent might have to be collected next year created a considerable stir in Washington.

Conferences at the treasury led to a discussion between Mr. Hoover and Undersecretary of Treasury Mills at the White House. Mills lunched with Governor Young of the federal reserve board and returned to his office to issue a statement in Mellon's name.

"I have a very real hope that we may be able to make such a recommendation to the congress next December," said Mellon's statement after asserting it is "altogether too early" to say definitely that the reduction can be maintained. The statement protested the reports in morning newspapers regarding revenue prospects and the possible abandonment of the reduction.

Within two hours, Mr. Hoover had added a more emphatic statement to the tax situation.

"I can state," he said, "that there is no ground now for the predictions in the press this morning that a deficit was impending which would prevent the continuation of tax reduction established last year."

Prospective expenditures were estimated last July 1 at $4,203,000,000 and since have been reduced by $75,000,000, Mr. Hoover said, by orders directing all departments to seek economies.

PURSUED HOODLUM STOPPED CAR BY THROWING TACKS

Faribault, Minn., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Sam Jaffa, Minneapolis hoodlum, was bound over to district court today on abduction charges and bail was set at $2,000. Officers who had pursued Jaffa when he was in Faribault before being captured in Minneapolis told how he threw tacks on the road and cut them off.

In Zuta Case

State Senator Harry W. Starr of Chicago, who has become involved in the Zuta case with the revelation by the state's attorney's office that he had received two $200 checks from Jack Zuta, slain vice lord, in 1926. Senator Starr stated that he received the checks in October, 1926, as fees for representing Zuta in litigation over an automobile accident.

FIRE FIGHTING APPROPRIATIONS ARE EXHAUSTED

3,000 MEN BATTLING AGAINST WIDESPREAD FIRES IN THE STATE

NO RAIN FALLS IN NORTH COUNTRY DURING PAST 24 HOURS

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—While an army of 3,000 fire fighters battled against the most widespread Minnesota forest fires in recent years, forestry officials today announced that fire-fighting appropriations had been exhausted.

Funds will be drawn from other budgets to pay rangers and emergency forest crews, A. F. Oppel, deputy state forester, announced.

Necessity of keeping large squads of men in the field to guard against possible flare-ups drained the budget, he said. Despite the acute danger of sweeping conflagrations the unusually large army of woodsmen has been able to hold the situation well in hand, he said.

Fires in the Brainerd-Aitkin district spread today and were sweeping through the brush, peat bogs and second growth timber for the most part.

No rain fell in the north during the past 24 hours and the situation hourly becomes more acute, Oppel said. Lack of wind in the district continued to prevent the fires from spreading rapidly.

In the vicinity of Guthrie, severe blazes were reported, but emergency forces reported that they had been able to maintain the fire lines.

A large patrol continued to guard the Duluth area where a score of small fires smoldered.

MRS. McCORMICK REVEALS MASTER STROKE OF POLITICS

PAVES WAY, OBSERVERS SAY, FOR UNDIVIDED SUPPORT OF WET-DRY REPUBLICANS

IN HER CAMPAIGN FOR ELECTION TO U. S. SENATE NEXT MONTH

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Ruth Hanna McCormick, by a master stroke worthy of her great father, Mark Hanna, has paved the way, observers agreed today, for undivided support of wet and dry republicans alike in her campaign for election to the United States senate next November.

"I personally, am dry," she told the state republican convention, "but if a majority in Illinois favor repeal of the eighteenth amendment in the November referendum, I stand ready to vote to submit the question of its repeal to the several states."

The paramount issue today in Illinois is the dry question. The consensus is that the state will vote overwhelmingly in its referendum in favor of asking repeal of the Volstead law, the 18th amendment and the state's search and seizure act. It did so four years ago in a similar referendum ballot.

Much of the political thunder of James Hamilton Lewis, dripping wet democratic nominee to oppose Mrs. McCormick, was stolen also when she nicely side-stepped his challenge to fight the battle on a wet and dry basis.

If Mrs. McCormick can attract the undivided support of her party, there appears to be little question but that she will become the first woman to be elected to the senate. The state normally is republican by a large majority.

Lewis now will have to use the $250,000 primary campaign expenditure of his opponent as a big issue, his opponents believe, while he will face a counter-thrust that as a Wilsonian democratic whip, he supported the League of Nations.

SHIPPING OUT STARVING CATTLE

FROM DROUGHT AREA TO WISCONSIN DISTRICTS IS CONSIDERED

Madison, Wis., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Shipment of starving livestock from the drought-stricken areas to Wisconsin was being considered here today by state agricultural leaders. Abundance of hay and feed in Wisconsin along with the offer of Wisconsin Bank Shares Corporation to set a $1,000,000 fund aside for financing purposes has made it possible to set up machinery for relief of western areas, especially Montana.

Charles L. Hill, chairman of the state department of agriculture and markets, advised Secretary of Agriculture Hyde of the plan while C. W. Warburton, department director of extension, immediately notified extension directors in Montana. The latter were expected to take advantage of the offer.

Wisconsin farmers would use surplus feed crops to feed western sheep and cattle purchased on borrowed capital.

DIES OBSCURELY, RUGGLES LEAVES 50 MILLION ESTATE

Manistee, Mich., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Major portions of the $50,000,000 estate of Charles F. Ruggles, 84-year old lumber and salt magnate, will go to charity, his will revealed today. He died here Thursday night almost in obscurity, as he had lived.

Two friends, Ewald J. Pfeiffer of Manistee, and Charles McPherson of Grand Rapids, were named sole executors and trustees of the vast estate.

They were given power to distribute his fortune "for such charitable, benevolent, educational and public welfare uses as they shall select."

Requests to relatives, including a lone brother who lives in the upper Michigan peninsula, employees and friends totaled $230,000 and $100,000 was set aside "to provide financial assistance to such of my friends as may be in need of assistance or relief."

FATE OF ANDREE EXPEDITION IS SOLVED

STARTED FOR NORTH POLE IN BALLOON 33 YEARS AGO LAST MONTH

BODIES OF 2 MEMBERS FOUND ON FROZEN ISLAND NEAR FRANZ JOSEPH LAND

Oslo, Norway, Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—The fate of the Andree expedition, which started for the north pole in a balloon 33 years ago last month, has been solved after having been locked a secret in the frozen Arctic wastes since 1897.

The bodies of two members of the expedition, preserved by the cold, have been found on a frozen island near Franz Joseph Land, in the north polar regions. They had flown from Spitzbergen in a balloon with one other man, whose body apparently has not yet been found. The two survivors were discovered at a camp they had made on Victoria Island, which is within a few degrees of the north pole. Apparently they had drifted hundreds of miles from their starting point before coming down. They built a shelter under a cliff and died of starvation and cold.

The log of the remarkable expedition was recovered.

Members of the expedition were Salomon August Andree, an aeronaut and explorer; Nils Strindberg and Knut H. F. Fraekel.

They left Dane's Island, Spitzbergen, on July 11, 1897. They were heard from when a carrier pigeon returned to civilization bearing a message which gave the expedition's position as north 82 degrees. After that there was silence. They were hunted for years, but no definite word was ever received until today, although many false rumors were circulated.

The bodies were found on Aug. 6 by a Norwegian fishing vessel, which apparently reported its discovery to the Norwegian scientific expedition on board the steamship Brattvaag.

The bodies were fully clothed and in a good state of preservation. There was no doubt of the identification of Andree, since his name was found on a book in his pocket.

A short distance from him lay the body of one of his companions, but whether it was that of Fraekel has not yet been determined. Andree appeared to have survived his companion for a time.

The makeshift camp was at the foot of a cliff about 500 feet from the shore line. Word that the log book was found was hailed with interest, since it is expected to disclose a dramatic story of the expedition's finish.

The Brattvaag still is in Franz Joseph Land, with the bodies of Andree and the other man aboard; the ship expects to reach Norway about Sept. 10.

A small Norwegian fishing boat reached Norway this morning, bringing the news of the finding. The crew said Andree's and the other body were partly frozen in the ice. The body of the third man was believed to be frozen solidly in a small boat in the ice. When the fishing boat left, the Brattvaag was trying to get the ice out of the boat and recover the body.

The Brattvaag found and collected cooking utensils and instruments frozen in the ice.

POLISH GOVERNMENT RESIGNED TODAY

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—The Polish government resigned today.

REBELS TAKE POSSESSION OF LARGE CITY

GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCES IT EXPECTS TO RESTORE ORDER SOON

DECREE CLOSES PORT OF MOLLENDO TO ALL MERCHANT SHIPS

Lima, Peru, Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—An official today announced a revolutionary uprising of troops of the garrison at Arequipa.

The rebels captured the government authorities at Arequipa and took possession of the city, which is the second largest in Peru.

The government announced that it expects to restore order at Arequipa soon, but meanwhile issued a decree closing the port of Mollendo to all merchant ships. All commercial aviation fields at Arequipa and in the vicinity of the captured city also were closed.

The announcement said Commandant Sanchez Cerro had instigated the uprising. He was said to have told the troops that the government would not pay them.

Commandant-General Peopoldo Arias of Arequipa and Prefect Federico Fernandini were captured by the forces under direction of Sanchez Cerro.

Arequipa, long a rival city of Lima, is inland on the railroad line in southern Peru. Mollendo is its port of entry. Arequipa, capital of the department of the same name, has a population of more than 35,000 and is the center of a large trade in wool and cotton goods and mining products. It also is located in a strategic position, high on a plain some 50 miles from the coast.

The ministry of interior issued the following statement:

"The troops of the Arequipa garrison, obeying instructions of Commandant Sanchez Cerro and deceived by a false general order announcing the dismissal of troops and reduction of officers' salaries, started a rebel movement at 11 A. M. Friday, capturing Commander General Leopoldo Arias and Prefect of the Department Federico Fernandini, and took control of the city."

"The government has taken the necessary measures and expects that there will soon be restored at Arequipa."

Recently the government has directed its attention to remedying the monetary situation, the sol having dropped this week to the lowest point on the exchange in a decade.

The present government of President Augusto B. Leguia was established upon Leguia's re-election Aug. 4, 1929, for a term of six years.

There have been several attempts on his life, the last one being frustrated several months ago.

The leaders of the plot were arrested on charges of planning to start a revolutionary uprising throughout the country with the president's assassination as the starting signal.

PROHIBITION AGENTS BREAK UP 'BREW PARTY' AT RED WING

Red Wing, Minn., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Four federal prohibition agents were the life of a party here last night, but today two of them were back in St. Paul nursing sore jaws.

The agents descended upon a "brew party" in the apartments of Charles Flink and John Wood. They seized a lion's share of the brew and besides broke more than 100 quarts stored in the basement of the building.

All would have gone well enough for the agents, however, except for the fact one of them resented being "sassed" by Mrs. Louis Rucker, a guest at the party. He slapped her face, she said. The party got rough. When two of the agents who had been destroying liquor in the basement came upstairs they found the other pair prone on the floor and most of the guests fleeing.

SEARCH FOR CASHIER SHORT IN ACCOUNTS

Glenwood City, Wis., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Federal authorities searched today for F. J. Frazier, cashier of the closed Farmers National Bank, who disappeared as bank examiners discovered $64,000 shortage in his accounts.

Frazier is sought on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. He fled Monday when national bank examiners started a check of his accounts. The board of directors of the institution ordered the bank closed when the shortage was discovered.

Mrs. Frazier, who was thought to have left with her husband, today was at New Richmond, near here, with her parents. She said she had been visiting in Minneapolis since Tuesday.

W. F. Hume, national bank examiner, reported today that no further irregularities had been uncovered.

EUROPE'S BEST IN NATIONAL AIR RACES

Necessity of keeping large squads of men in the field to guard against possible flare-ups drained the budget, he said. Despite the acute danger of sweeping conflagrations the unusually large army of woodsmen has been able to hold the situation well in hand, he said.

Fires in the Brainerd-Aitkin district spread today and were sweeping through the brush, peat bogs and second growth timber for the most part.

No rain fell in the north during the past 24 hours and the situation hourly becomes more acute, Oppel said. Lack of wind in the district continued to prevent the fires from spreading rapidly.

In the vicinity of Guthrie, severe blazes were reported, but emergency forces reported that they had been able to maintain the fire lines.

A large patrol continued to guard the Duluth area where a score of small fires smoldered.

MRS. McCORMICK REVEALS MASTER STROKE OF POLITICS

PAVES WAY, OBSERVERS SAY, FOR UNDIVIDED SUPPORT OF WET-DRY REPUBLICANS

IN HER CAMPAIGN FOR ELECTION TO U. S. SENATE NEXT MONTH

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Ruth Hanna McCormick, by a master stroke worthy of her great father, Mark Hanna, has paved the way, observers agreed today, for undivided support of wet and dry republicans alike in her campaign for election to the United States senate next November.

"I personally, am dry," she told the state republican convention, "but if a majority in Illinois favor repeal of the eighteenth amendment in the November referendum, I stand ready to vote to submit the question of its repeal to the several states."

The paramount issue today in Illinois is that the state will vote overwhelmingly in its referendum in favor of asking repeal of the Volstead law, the 18th amendment and the state's search and seizure act. It did so four years ago in a similar referendum ballot.

Much of the political thunder of James Hamilton Lewis, dripping wet democratic nominee to oppose Mrs. McCormick, was stolen also when she nicely side-stepped his challenge to fight the battle on a wet and dry basis.

If Mrs. McCormick can attract the undivided support of her party, there appears to be little question but that she will become the first woman to be elected to the senate. The state normally is republican by a large majority.

Lewis now will have to use the $250,000 primary campaign expenditure of his opponent as a big issue, his opponents believe, while he will face a counter-thrust that as a Wilsonian democratic whip, he supported the League of Nations.

SHIPPING OUT STARVING CATTLE

FROM DROUGHT AREA TO WISCONSIN DISTRICTS IS CONSIDERED

Madison, Wis., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Shipping of starving livestock from the drought-stricken areas to Wisconsin was being considered here today by state agricultural leaders. Abundance of hay and feed in Wisconsin along with the offer of Wisconsin Bank Shares Corporation to set a $1,000,000 fund aside for financing purposes has made it possible to set up machinery for relief of western areas, especially Montana.

Charles L. Hill, chairman of the state department of agriculture and markets, advised Secretary of Agriculture Hyde of the plan while C. W. Warburton, department director of extension, immediately notified extension directors in Montana. The latter were expected to take advantage of the offer.

Wisconsin farmers would use surplus feed crops to feed western sheep and cattle purchased on borrowed capital.

REBELS TAKE POSSESSION OF LARGE CITY

GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCES IT EXPECTS TO RESTORE ORDER SOON

DECREES CLOSES PORT OF MOLLENDO TO ALL MERCHANT SHIPS

Lima, Peru, Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—An official today announced a revolutionary uprising of troops of the garrison at Arequipa.

The rebels captured the government authorities at Arequipa and took possession of the city, which is the second largest in Peru.

The government announced that it expects to restore order at Arequipa soon, but meanwhile issued a decree closing the port of Mollendo to all merchant ships. All commercial aviation fields at Arequipa and in the vicinity of the captured city also were closed.

The announcement said Commandant Sanchez Cerro had instigated the uprising. He was said to have told the troops that the government would not pay them.

Commandant-General Peopoldo Arias of Arequipa and Prefect Federico Fernandez were captured by the forces under direction of Sanchez Cerro.

Arequipa, long a rival city of Lima, is inland on the railroad line in southern Peru. Mollendo is its port of entry. Arequipa, capital of the department of the same name, has a population of more than 35,000 and is the center of a large trade in wool and cotton goods and mining products. It also is located in a strategic position, high on a plain some 50 miles from the coast.

The ministry of interior issued the following statement:

"The troops of the Arequipa garrison, obeying instructions of Commandant Sanchez Cerro and deceived by a false general order announcing the dismissal of troops and reduction of officers' salaries, started a rebel movement at 11 A. M. Friday, capturing Commander General Leopoldo Arias and Prefect of the Department Federico Fernandez, and took control of the city."

"The government has taken the necessary measures and expects that order will soon be restored at Arequipa."

The government announced that there was no bloodshed when the rebels took possession of the city.

Recently the government has directed its attention to remedying the monetary situation, the sol having dropped this week to the lowest point on the exchange in a decade.

The present government of President Augusto B. Leguia was established upon Leguia's re-election Aug. 4, 1929, for a term of six years.

There have been several attempts on his life, the last one being frustrated several months ago.

The leaders of the plot were arrested on charges of planning to start a revolutionary uprising throughout the country with the president's assassination as the starting signal.

PROHIBITION AGENTS BREAK UP 'BREW PARTY' AT RED WING

Red Wing, Minn., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Four federal prohibition agents were the life of a party here last night, but today two of them were back in St. Paul nursing sore jaws.

The agents descended upon a "brew party" in the apartments of Charles Flink and John Wood. They seized a lion's share of the brew and besides broke more than 100 quarts stored in the basement of the building.

All would have gone well enough for the agents, however, except for the fact one of them resented being "sassed" by Mrs. Louis Rucker, a guest at the party. He slapped her face, she said. Then the party got rough. When two of the agents who had been destroying liquor in the basement came upstairs they found the other pair prone on the floor and most of the guests fleeing.

SEARCH FOR CASHIER SHORT IN ACCOUNTS

Glenwood City, Wis., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Federal authorities searched today for F. J. Frazier, cashier of the closed Farmers National Bank, who disappeared as bank examiners discovered $64,000 shortage in his accounts.

Frazier is sought on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. He fled Monday when national bank examiners started a check of his accounts. The board of directors of the institution ordered the bank closed when the shortage was discovered.

Mrs. Frazier, who was thought to have left with her husband, today was at New Richmond, near here, with her parents. She said she had been visiting in Minneapolis since Tuesday.

W. F. Huck, national bank examiner, reported today that no further irregularities had been uncovered.

FARMERS FEED STOCK ON WINTER RATIONS

Will Be Forced to Buy or Cut Down on Their Herds This Winter

FODDER CROPS LIGHT

Alfalfa Yield on One Farm Only One Ton to Six Acres; Other Crops Suffer

Farmers in Crow Wing county, severely hit by the drought, wondered today what they would do for feed for their cattle this winter as they continued to give winter rations.

"The hay crop is unusually light. The farmers will be faced with the problem this winter of going out and buying or cutting down on their herds," reported Edward Nelson of Nokay Lake township today.

Mr. Nelson said he had 11 acres of alfalfa and that he got only two loads from it and that an additional five acres was burned to the extent that it was useless to cut it. He estimated the average yield in alfalfa at one ton to six acres.

The heat wave hit the entire hay crop in the county. Only the wild hay meadows in the lowlands have an average yield, Mr. Nelson said.

He reported that even the quack grass failed to grow this year, that he had cut some quack on his farm in the middle of June and that it since had failed to show any sign of growth.

Mr. Nelson estimated that the heat had cut down the oat crop to between 20 and 30 bushels an acre, the rye to 18 to 25 bushels an acre, the barley to 20 bushels an acre.

Presence of rain will not help the farmer at this date. Many farmers throughout the county were cutting corn today, considered unusually early.

William Hanson of Long Lake township, was more fortunate than other farmers this summer. He placed in Glabron barley and his yield was 45 bushels to the acre. The barley seed was furnished him by the state as an experiment. It is the smooth beard variety, of even superior quality to the velvet barley which has a yield on several farms of 42 bushels to the acre.

Fleischer-Maust

Miss Arvilla I. Maust of South Long Lake township became the bride of Ralph E. Fleischer in a pretty wedding ceremony at high noon Wednesday at the home of the bride's father, Carl Maust. Marriage vows were exchanged before Rev. W. L. Lowrie, pastor of the first Presbyterian church of Windom, former pastor of the Presbyterian church here.

Marlin Maust, brother of the bride was the best man and Mrs. Peter Moxenson, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Only immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony.

The happy couple will make their home in Brainerd. Mr. Fleischer is employed in the Northern Pacific shops here.

GENE SARAZEN INCREASES LEAD IN WESTERN OPEN

Indianwood Club, Orion, Mich., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Gene Sarazen, New York pro, today increased his lead in the Western Open golf tournament to three strokes, with a total of 173 for 45 holes.

The swarthy little Italian, who held a two-stroke advantage as play started this morning, continued his sensational scoring and negotiated the outgoing nine holes of his morning round, 31, four strokes under par.

Walter Hagen, counted out of the championship fight since he turned in a disastrous 77 on the opening day, served notice that he still is in the race. "The Hag" was out in 35 for a 45 hole hole of 158, came back in 33, four strokes under par for a 54 hole score of 217.

Hagen's sensational 39—including a new course record for the incoming nine—gave him second place among players who had completed their 21 holes early this afternoon.

Milk for Sale by Foot

A new process by which Danish dairy farmers are extracting the natural water from the milk leaves a pulpy substance which is then rolled into sheets like paper and dried. This concentrated milk is then sold by the pound and may also be marketed by the square foot or yard. When desirable to use it in liquid form, it is dissolved in hot water.—Copper's Weekly.

FARMERS FEED STOCK ON WINTER RATIONS

Will Be Forced to Buy or Cut Down on Their Herds This Winter

FODDER CROPS LIGHT

Alfalfa Yield on One Farm Only One Ton to Six Acres; Other Crops Suffer

Farmers in Crow Wing county, severely hit by the drought, wondered today what they would do for feed for their cattle this winter as they continued to give winter rations.

"The hay crop is unusually light. The farmers will be faced with the problem this winter of going out and buying or cutting down on their herds," reported Edward Nelson of Nokay Lake township today.

Mr. Nelson said he had 11 acres of alfalfa and that he got only two loads from it and that an additional five acres was burned to the extent that it was useless to cut it. He estimated the average yield in alfalfa at one ton to six acres.

The heat wave hit the entire hay crop in the county. Only the wild hay meadows in the lowlands have an average yield, Mr. Nelson said.

He reported that even the quack grass failed to grow this year, that he had cut some quack on his farm in the middle of June and that it since had failed to show any sign of growth. Mr. Nelson estimated that the heat had cut down the oat crop to between 20 and 30 bushels an acre, the rye to 18 to 25 bushels an acre, the barley to 20 bushels an acre.

Presence of rain will not help the farmer at this date. Many farmers throughout the county were cutting corn today, considered unusually early.

William Hanson of Long Lake township, was more fortunate than other farmers this summer. He placed in Glabron barley and his yield was 45 bushels to the acre. The barley seed was furnished him by the state as an experiment. It is the smooth headed variety, of even superior quality to the velvet barley which has a yield on several farms of 42 bushels to the acre.

Fleischer-Maust

Miss Arvilla I. Maust of South Long Lake township became the bride of Ralph E. Fleischer in a pretty wedding ceremony at high noon Wednesday at the home of the bride's father, Carl Maust. Marriage vows were exchanged before Rev. W. L. Lowrie, pastor of the first Presbyterian church of Windom, former pastor of the Presbyterian church here.

Marlin Maust, brother of the bride was the best man and Mrs. Peter Mogensson, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Only immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony.

The happy couple will make their home in Brainerd. Mr. Fleischer is employed in the Northern Pacific shops here.

The Rev. W. H. Rogers, D. D., pastor of the Hinson Memorial Baptist church of Portland, Ore., will be the guest preacher at the summer tabernacle, Sixth and Oak streets, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. At the evening service a solo will be sung by Marcelle Holm and duets will be rendered by Miss Evelyn Piester and Sigurd Dyrland of Minneapolis.

Mr. Vallant will preach tomorrow evening on "The Father's Forgiveness."

GENE SARAZEN INCREASES LEAD IN WESTERN OPEN

Indianwood Club, Orion, Mich., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Gene Sarazen, New York pro, today increased his lead in the Western Open golf tournament to three strokes, with a total of 173 for 45 holes.

The swarthy little Italian, who held a two-stroke advantage as play started this morning, continued his sensational scoring and negotiated the outgoing nine holes of his morning round, 31, four strokes under par.

Walter Hagen, counted out of the championship fight since he turned in a disastrous 77 on the opening day, served notice that he still is in the race. "The Haig" was out in 35 for a 45 hole total of 158, came back in 33, four strokes under par for a 51 hole score of 217.

Hagen's sensational 35—including a new course record for the incoming nine—gave him second place among players who had completed their 34 holes early this afternoon.

JUDGE HALLAM TO CALL TOGETHER NEW CRIME COMMISSION

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—Judge Oscar Hallam, head of the newly appointed Minnesota crime commission, said today that he would return to St. Paul immediately to arrange for a conference of the commission.

Hallam, who stopped off here on his way back from the convention of the American Bar Association in Chicago, has not yet received the official communication from Governor Theodore Christianson appointing him chairman of the commission.

He stated that he expected to find the copy of the order in his office when he returned.

Hallam said that all he knew of the commission was from newspaper reports that he had read, but that he supposed he would confer with Christianson regarding calling an immediate meeting of the body.

Milk for Sale by Foot

A new process by which Danish dairy farmers are extracting the natural water from the milk leaves a pulpy substance which is then rolled into sheets like paper and dried. This concentrated milk is then sold by the pound and may also be marketed by the square foot or yard. When desirable to use it in liquid form, it is dissolved in hot water.—Capper's Weekly.

This Looks Fishy

The world's population is estimated now at more than 2,000,000,000, with 900,000,000 in Asia, 500,000,000 in Europe, 200,000,000 in North and South America (part of them in the United States), 150,000,000 in Africa, and 7,000,000 in Australia. And yet occasionally a man will say: "There's only one girl in the world for me!"

Minimum Water Levels at the Lakes

THE cause of setting minimum water levels at the northern Minnesota lakes which are in the reservoir system is an important undertaking and merits the support of every Minnesotan. Without such a law this upper country does not know where it stands in regard to levels and is at the mercy of the War Department. The law provides a maximum level, but no one appears to have considered the factor just as important, the minimum level.

Twin City papers gave extended mention to the story of calling a meeting at Brainerd to consider lake levels, the conference to be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Thursday, September 11. Congressman Harold Knutson, instrumental in inaugurating the conference, has made a deep study of lake levels and its importance to northern Minnesota and what it means to the growing tourist trade of the state.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press of Saturday champions the nine-foot channel and under a heading entitled, "More Work for the Channel," states that "communities in the northern part of the state, where lake levels are being lowered by the War Department's policy of replenishing the flow of the Mississippi might well hope for the early completion of the nine-foot channel. As matters now stand it is a choice between supplying the river with enough water to permit of barge traffic, or leaving the lakes at a level that will preserve fish life.

"The nine-foot channel, with its serious of dams and locks, will permit of conserving water during periods of drouths. The river will become a series of reservoirs which can be filled during flood season. Such control will make possible retarding the flow when the occasion requires. At present the Mississippi drains far more water from northern Minnesota's regions than should be required for maintaining traffic on the river.

"The nine-foot channel project would foster not only river transportation, but also the natural assets of northern Minnesota."

If a six-foot channel is tapping northern Minnesota lakes and drying them up, what would a nine-foot channel requirement do? The lake country faces actual facts, low water, retreating lakes, imperilled fish and game life, and no amount of channel argument can talk away those facts.

The whole matter will be threshed out thoroughly by vitally interested communities at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Brainerd on Thursday afternoon, September 11.

Driving Slowly

DRIVING slowly on a much-used trunk highway can become as much a source of danger to other cars, pursuing legal rates of speed, as a fast driver. The slow driver dawdles along and snarls up traffic. He causes cars to whirl past him and occupy the half intended for oncoming traffic.

A slow driver leads cars following to believe that he may turn in at some point and they watch for the signal that never comes. Unless actually compelled to travel slowly, no car should be allowed to travel at 10 or 15 miles an hour on a trunk highway.

It is the same as giving a slow going local train all the rights of a limited and making the limited take to the sidings. This slow driving has been taken up by the State Automobile Association and in its official magazine carried a pronouncement on the subject.

While on the topic of unusual practices in driving, motorists report some cottager parking an unlighted flivver on the main trunk No. 19 near a curve where the Hubert road meets the trunk. All four wheels occupy the main highway. This car and its owner should be a matter of investigation by the State Highway Patrol.

Another unusual thing is to find tourists parked at the dangerous curve where No. 2 and No. 19 form a junction two miles west of Brainerd. It shuts off view of oncoming travel in all directions.

Common sense exercised by drivers would solve any of these infractions of traffic rules. The rules will not be broken if every driver exercises the Golden Rule.

DOMESTIC producers of manganese ore submitted evidence to the Treasury Department to substantiate their charges that the Russian Soviet is violating the anti-dumping act of 1921 by sale of ore in this country at prices less than those charged in Russia. The manganese ore situation has a bearing on production of manganese ores in the Cuyuna iron range.

THE drouth has left the upper Mississippi lower than the low water mark in Civil War days. The level at Winona and La Crosse is two-tenths of a foot below the 1864 mark. A few boats still ply the upper river. The water level at Winona is 17 feet lower than the highest on record.

WASTE paper flying about the business streets of Brainerd and cluttering up along the curbs is not conducive to cleanliness nor does it bespeak a tidy, neat town. The people who release such paper to be bowled about by the winds should dispose of their waste paper in other manner than this.

THE Aitkin Independent Age of August 22 carried home news on every page of its eight-page regular issue.

THE daily paper that misses delivery is generally the one that contains all the important news.

CHILDREN who must go to school seem to be a great factor in terminating the tourist season.

JOYOUS schoolbells will soon be pealing to usher in the study period after a lengthy vacation.

It is most aggravating to lose a valuable fountain pen advertised to last a lifetime.

MANY a man and woman, knowing they are growing older, hate to admit it.

THE saddest part of a vacation is its finish.

Minimum Water Levels at the Lakes

THE cause of setting minimum water levels at the northern Minnesota lakes which are in the reservoir system is an important undertaking and merits the support of every Minnesotan. Without such a law this upper country does not know where it stands in regard to levels and is at the mercy of the War Department. The law provides a maximum level, but no one appears to have considered the factor just as important, the minimum level.

Twin City papers gave extended mention to the story of calling a meeting at Brainerd to consider lake levels, the conference to be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Thursday, September 11. Congressman Harold Knutson, instrumental in inaugurating the conference, has made a deep study of lake levels and its importance to northern Minnesota and what it means to the growing tourist trade of the state.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press of Saturday champions the nine-foot channel and under a heading entitled, "More Work for the Channel," states that "communities in the northern part of the state, where lake levels are being lowered by the War Department's policy of replenishing the flow of the Mississippi might well hope for the early completion of the nine-foot channel. As matters now stand it is a choice between supplying the river with enough water to permit of barge traffic, or leaving the lakes at a level that will preserve fish life.

"The nine-foot channel, with its serious of dams and locks, will permit of conserving water during periods of drouths. The river will become a series of reservoirs which can be filled during flood season. Such control will make possible retarding the flow when the occasion requires. At present the Mississippi drains far more water from northern Minnesota's regions than should be required for maintaining traffic on the river.

"The nine-foot channel project would foster not only river transportation, but also the natural assets of northern Minnesota."

If a six-foot channel is tapping northern Minnesota lakes and drying them up, what would a nine-foot channel requirement do? The lake country faces actual facts, low water, retreating lakes, imperilled fish and game life, and no amount of channel argument can talk away those facts.

The whole matter will be threshed out thoroughly by vitally interested communities at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Brainerd on Thursday afternoon, September 11.

Driving Slowly

DRIVING slowly on a much-used trunk highway can become as much a source of danger to other cars, pursuing legal rates of speed, as a fast driver. The slow driver dawdles along and snarls up traffic. He causes cars to whirl past him and occupy the half intended for oncoming traffic.

A slow driver leads cars following to believe that he may turn in at some point and they watch for the signal that never comes. Unless actually compelled to travel slowly, no car should be allowed to travel at 10 or 15 miles an hour on a trunk highway.

It is the same as giving a slow going local train all the rights of a limited and making the limited take to the sidings. This slow driving has been taken up by the State Automobile Association and in its official magazine carried a pronouncement on the subject.

While on the topic of unusual practices in driving, motorists report some cottager parking an unlighted flivver on the main trunk No. 19 near a curve where the Hubert road meets the trunk. All four wheels occupy the main highway. This car and its owner should be a matter of investigation by the State Highway Patrol.

Another unusual thing is to find tourists parked at the dangerous curve where No. 2 and No. 19 form a junction two miles west of Brainerd. It shuts off view of oncoming travel in all directions.

Common sense exercised by drivers would solve any of these infractions of traffic rules. The rules will not be broken if every driver exercises the Golden Rule.

DOMESTIC producers of manganese ore submitted evidence to the Treasury Department to substantiate their charges that the Russian Soviet is violating the anti-dumping act of 1921 by sale of ore in this country at prices less than those charged in Russia. The manganese ore situation has a bearing on production of manganiferous ores in the Cuyuna iron range.

THE drouth has left the upper Mississippi lower than the low water mark in Civil War days. The level at Winona and La Crosse is two-tenths of a foot below the 1864 mark. A few boats still ply the upper river. The water level at Winona is 17 feet lower than the highest on record.

WASTE paper flying about the business streets of Brainerd and cluttering up along the curbs is not conducive to cleanliness nor does it bespeak a tidy, neat town. The people who release such paper to be bowled about by the winds should dispose of their waste paper in other manner than this.

THE Aitkin Independent Age of August 22 carried home news on every page of its eight-page regular issue.

THE daily paper that misses delivery is generally the one that contains all the important news.

CHILDREN who must go to school seem to be a great factor in terminating the tourist season.

JOYOUS schoolbells will soon be pealing to usher in the study period after a lengthy vacation.

It is most aggravating to lose a valuable fountain pen advertised to last a lifetime.

MANY a man and woman, knowing they are growing older, hate to admit it.

THE saddest part of a vacation is its finish.

DANIELS, WITH 14 POUND HANDICAP, DEFEATS CHRISTNER

MOVES UPWARD IN HEAVYWEIGHT CROWN ASPIRANTS

DANIELS HAS CHRISTNER ON THE CANVAS DURING THE FIRST ROUND

TAKES CHRISTNER'S HARDEST
PUNCHES, RETURNS THEM
WITH INTEREST

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Dick Daniels, Minneapolis, moved upward on the teeming ladder of heavy-weight crown aspirants today after his decision victory over K. O. Christner, Akron, Ohio, fighter who has tangled with the best of boxers.

Despite a 14-pound handicap, Daniels was able to have Christner on the canvas during the first round. A trick of the round, however, saved the Akron boxer from any difficulty. Christner dragged Daniels with him when he went down and the local boy was unable to get to his feet for some seconds.

Daniels carried most of the fight to Christner although the Akron fighter landed a number of hard punches. Daniels was able to take them and returned them with good measure during ten rounds.

Daniels weighed 183 1/2 and Christner scaled 197 1/2.

Spud Murphy, 131, Moorhead, won a scrappy bout on points from Paul Gangley, 125 1/2, Minneapolis, in six rounds. Murphy had Wangle's nose bleeding early in the fight but lacked the final punch to win a knockout because he was too far worn down himself.

Jimmy Gibbons, 192 1/2, St. Paul, played a defensive campaign to win a decision from newspaper men over Jack Roper, 192 3/4, Los Angeles. Roper appeared in trouble early in the fight until he managed to compute Gibbons' technique.

Jackie Sharkey, 124 1/2, Minneapolis, and Eddie Smith, 126 1/2, Chicago, who substituted for Babe Herman, St. Paul, fought to a six round draw. Britt Gorman, 115, Minneapolis, knocked out Bobby LaSalle, 112, Los Angeles, in the first round.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—Hitting his opponent at will, Charlie Hernandez, local heavyweight, so badly battered Don Burchard, Los Angeles, that he was awarded a technical knockout in the sixth round of a scheduled 8-round main event here last night.

Honolulu, T. H., Aug. 23.—In a hard fought battle here last night Young Nationalista, 123 3/4, Honolulu, won a decision over Vernon Jackson, 123, San Francisco, in a scheduled eight-round main event.

Margaret Ravior Wins 10 Mile Marathon Swim

Toronto, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Margaret Ravior, who was given scant consideration before the race, yesterday won the Canadian national exhibition ten-mile marathon swim in Lake Ontario. Mrs. Ruth Tower Corsan, Toronto, finished second, 175 yards behind the winner, and Mrs. Ethel Hertle Gary, New York, was third.

Miss Ravior took first prize of $5,000. Mrs. Corsan received $2,500 for second place and Mrs. Gary $1,000 for third.

PRINCE OF WALES ACHIEVES AMBITION, SCORES 88 IN GOLF

Le Touquet, France, Aug. 22.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales' long-cherished ambition of scoring an 88 for 18 holes of golf was achieved yesterday as the British heir celebrated the birth of his niece, the new daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York.

The prince, who was host at an informal dinner last night in honor of the new princess, played around the links with Mrs. Holdwright, wife of the local professional.

CHICAGO CUBS 3 FULL GAMES OUT IN FRONT

PICKED UP GAME FRIDAY WHEN THEY SMOTHERED GIANTS 12 TO 1

BROOKLYN'S ROBINS DROP FURTHER INTO DEPTHS, LOSE TO CINCINNATI 4 TO 1

The Chicago Cubs were three full games out in front of the national league field today when they resumed their series with the second-place New York Giants. The Cubs picked up a game Friday when they smothered the Giants 12 to 4 in the second game of the series.

Brooklyn's Robins dropped further into the depths when they were defeated by the Cincinnati Reds 4 to 1. Dazzy Vance pitched for the Robins and allowed but six hits but his teammates were helpless before the work of Larry Benton.

The Pittsburgh Pirates increased their winning streak to four straight by humbling the Boston Braves 10 to 3. Larry French hung up his 14th win of the season as the Pirates triumphed. Pie Traynor got three hits and batted in four runs.

The St. Louis Cardinals closed with a rush to take a 10 to 8 decision over the Phillies. Marcus's eighth-inning double with the bases full scored the winning runs.

In the American league the leading Philadelphia Athletics suffered one of their rare defeats, bowing to the Detroit Tigers 7 to 1. Vic Sorrell allowed the league-leaders but seven hits and fanned seven men.

Cleveland ran its winning streak to seven straight by downing the New York Yankees 5 to 4 in a 10-inning battle. Lou Gehrig was the batting star of the game getting his 36th home run in the second inning and his 37th in the fourth.

"Bumps" Hadley held the St. Louis Browns to two hits up until the ninth inning when he weakened and allowed three runs which tied the score to cross the plate. The Browns scored another in the tenth and beat the Washington Senators 4 to 3.

Ted Lyons scored his 18th victory of the season as the Chicago White Sox tripped the Boston Red Sox 6 to 4. The White Sox wipped out a 2-run Boston lead in the sixth inning when they got to Danny MacFayden for four runs.

Kansas City, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The Kansas City Blues took two closely played games from the Indianapolis Indians yesterday by scores of 3 to 2 and 5 to 4. A two run rally in the final frame won the second game for the Blues.

Milwaukee, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Milwaukee defeated the league-leading Louisville Colonels here yesterday, but they had to play 11 innings to do it. The score was 1 to 1. Tincup was charged with the Col's defeat. It was his second defeat of the season.

St. Paul, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Banging out 25 safeties, St. Paul defeated Toledo 23 to 4 here yesterday, establishing an association record.

Minneapolis, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Minneapolis took the final game of the series from Columbus yesterday, 8 to 2, giving the Millers four victories out of the five-game series.

NEW ORLEANS, LONG BEACH IN FINALS OF ALL-WESTERN PLAY

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 23.—(UP)—New Orleans and Long Beach, Calif., will meet in the finals of the all-western junior Legion baseball tournament today for the right to play in the "little world series," in Memphis, Tenn., next week.

New Orleans scored its first tournament victory yesterday in the opening semi-final game after a hard-fought, 11-inning game with Salina, Kan. The score was 7 to 6. Long Beach had little trouble in trouncing Enderlin, N. D., 14 to 1. Enderlin made seven errors, which accounted for more than half of their opponents' runs. Salverson, Long Beach, allowed six hits, while his teammates collected 11 off Johannesson and Hendrickson, Enderlin pitchers.

15 YEAR BOY SCOUT IS TRAP SHOOTING KING

Dayton, O., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Alfred R. King, Jr., 15-year-old Boy Scout of Wichita Falls, Tex., was king of American trapshooters today.

The Texas boy made trap-shooting history yesterday in a shoot-off with three veterans several times his age when he cracked 24 of 25 targets to win the Grand American handicap. The shoot-off was necessitated when King broke 997 of 1,000 targets to tie with Dan Casey, Toledo; J. L. Scott, Kansas City, and S. L. Crampton of Dayton.

CLUB honors in the National A. A. U. championships, which take place at Pittsburgh late this week, seem likely to be won by the Los Angeles A. C., which has assembled the strongest track and field team in its history. For present example, let's consider but two of the great stars who will sport the colors of that famous West Coast club in those national games—Leo Lermond, the miler, and Fred Sturdy, pole vaulter.

Lermond, formerly of the Boston A. A., made his home in Los Angeles last Spring and so is eligible to represent the L. A. A. C. Last year the nationals were held early in July at Denver, Lermond winning the mile in 4:24.6. San Francisco's Olympic Club won the meet with 44 points; Los Angeles was second with 39. Had Lermond ran for the "Angels" then, instead of for the Boston A. A., well—if Leo can repeat that victory this year, it ought just about clinch victory for the Los Angeles A. C.

However, it's far from certain that Lermond will win, what with George Bullwinkle of New York and a half dozen other crack milers entered in that Pittsburgh meet. Leo must be at his lightning best and improve considerably on 4:24 to capture that event.

In the pole vault, Los Angeles will be represented again by Fred Sturdy, who won at Denver last year with 13 feet 9 1/4 inches. Sturdy comes from that incubator of marvelous vaulters, old Yale.

He learned to leap with the long pole in the shadow, as it were, of the incomparable Sabin W. Carr, a "14-footer" when wearing his collegiate "Y" back in 1927. Sturdy still hopes to equal or better that 14-foot record and he may pick Pittsburgh as the scene of that achievement.

While the Los Angeles vaulter is a big favorite to win, some think Tom Warne of Northwestern will spring a big surprise by defeating Sturdy. Warne has done some wonderful vaulting in practice recently.

To win the meet, it looks as though either Lermond or Sturdy must come through, for a defeat in both probably would doom the "Angels" to second place again.

NOW that Phil Scott is just getting the resin dust out of his system after being flattened pronto by "Young" Stribling and our own Bobby Jones is Britain's choice as the world's best golfer, John Bull must feel as low as the stock market (of his last name) ever since last October. His boxing hopes are sunk—lower than even the lowest of Jack Sharkey's low punches! His links prospects are somewhat better, though Jones and a dozen other American stars completely eclipse those whose forefathers founded golf.

But—strike me purple, pink or with a pie!—John Bull's historic pluck is still conspicuous. Indeed, there are two events in the immediate offing which British sportsmen would rather win than any other competitive classic, save the international golf championships. Those much desired prizes are the Lipton Cup and the Anglo-American polo trophy.

Only British pluck plus enthusiasm can give John Bull much hope of winning either at yachting or polo this year. England has not won since 1914 in the pony scrambles and four times—in 1899, 1901, 1903 and 1920—the good Sir "Tom" Lipton has failed to lift the cup, a pewter mug worth $500 for which about $20,000,000 has been spent by the donor and his rivals in the production of the most expensive racing yachts.

However, precedent is merely interesting and so the Shamrock V has come across to meet the pick of American yachts in the traditional 30-mile triangular race off Newport, R. I. The craft which wins three races gets its name, dates, etc., on the famous cup.

Judging from the form shown by Eric Pedley and others, the American polo team will prove another great outfit. John Bull's Hurlingham stars may achieve a miracle but—after the Westbury polo and yacht classics, John Bull should have more grief to add to his boxing and golfing thoughts. The old boy may have some cause for joy if the pick of the Empire's athletes whip America's team in the international games at Chicago next week. Even there, we "bloom-in' Yanks" ought to put another good-natured twist in the British lion's tail, eh what?

If John Bull wins any one of those events, what a wallop it'll be for Uncle Sam! At that, the sport bug would not weep if the good Sir "Tom" finally won his Lipton Cup—what ho an' cheer-o!

DANIELS, WITH 14 POUND HANDICAP, DEFEATS CHRISTNER

MOVES UPWARD IN HEAVYWEIGHT CROWN ASPIRANTS

DANIELS HAS CHRISTNER ON

FIRST ROUND

TAKES CHRISTNER'S HARDEST
PUNCHES, RETURNS THEM
WITH INTEREST

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Dick Daniels, Minneapolis, moved upward on the teeming ladder of heavy-weight crown aspirants today after his decision victory over K. O. Christner, Akron, Ohio, fighter who has tangled with the best of boxers.

Despite a 14-pound handicap, Daniels was able to have Christner on the canvas during the first round. A trick of the round, however, saved the Akron boxer from any difficulty. Christner dragged Daniels with him when he went down and the local boy was unable to get to his feet for some seconds.

Daniels carried most of the fight to Christner although the Akron fighter landed a number of hard punches. Daniels was able to take them and returned them with good measure during ten rounds.

Daniels weighed 183 1/4 and Christner scaled 197 1/4.

Spud Murphy, 131, Moorhead, won a scrappy bout on points from Paul Gangle, 125 1/2, Minneapolis, in six rounds. Murphy had Wangley's nose bleeding early in the fight but lacked the final punch to win a knockout because he was too far worn down himself.

Jimmy Gibbons, 192 1/2, St. Paul, played a defensive campaign to win a decision from newspaper men over Jack Roper, 192 3/4, Los Angeles. Roper appeared in trouble early in the fight until he managed to compute Gibbons' technique.

Jackie Sharkey, 124 1/2, Minneapolis, and Eddie Smith, 126 1/2, Chicago, who substituted for Babe Herman, St. Paul, fought to a six round draw. Britt Gorman, 115, Minneapolis, knocked out Bobby LaSalle, 112, Los Angeles, in the first round.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—Hitting his opponent at will, Charlie Hernandez, local heavyweight, so badly battered Don Burchard, Los Angeles, that he was awarded a technical knockout in the sixth round of a scheduled eight-round main event here last night.

Honolulu, T. H., Aug. 23.—In a hard fought battle here last night Young Nationalista, 123 3/4, Honolulu, won a decision over Vernon Jackson, 123, San Francisco, in a scheduled eight-round main event.

Margaret Ravior Wins 10 Mile Marathon Swim

Toronto, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Margaret Ravior, who was given scant consideration before the race, yesterday won the Canadian national exhibition ten-mile marathon swim in Lake Ontario. Mrs. Ruth Tower Corson, Toronto, finished second, 175 yards behind the winner, and Mrs. Ethel Hertle Gary, New York, was third.

Miss Ravior took first prize of $5,000, Mrs. Corson received $2,500 for second place and Mrs. Gary $1,000 for third.

PRINCE OF WALES ACHIEVES AMBITION, SCORES 88 IN GOLF

Le Touquet, France, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales' long-cherished ambition of scoring an 88 for 18 holes of golf was achieved yesterday as the British heir celebrated the birth of his niece, the new daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York.

The prince, who was host at an informal dinner last night in honor of the new princess, played around the links with Mrs. Holdwright, wife of the local professional.

CHICAGO CUBS 3 FULL GAMES OUT IN FRONT

PICKED UP GAME FRIDAY WHEN THEY SMOTHERED GIANTS 12 TO 1

BROOKLYN'S ROBINS DROP FURTHER INTO DEPTHS, LOSE TO CINCINNATI 4 TO 1

The Chicago Cubs were three full games out in front of the national league field today when they resumed their series with the second-place New York Giants. The Cubs picked up a game Friday when they smothered the Giants 12 to 4 in the second game of the series.

Brooklyn's Robins dropped further into the depths when they were defeated by the Cincinnati Reds 4 to 1. Dazzy Vance pitched for the Robins and allowed but six hits but his teammates were helpless before the work of Larry Benton.

The Pittsburgh Pirates increased their winning streak to four straight by humbling the Boston Braves 10 to 3. Larry French hung up his 14th win of the season as the Pirates triumphed. Pie Traynor got three hits and batted in four runs.

The St. Louis Cardinals closed with a rush to take a 10 to 8 decision over the Phillies. Marcus's eighth-inning double with the bases full scored the winning run.

In the American league the leading Philadelphia Athletics suffered one of their rare defeats, bowing to the Detroit Tigers 7 to 1. Vic Sorrell allowed the league leaders but seven hits and fanned seven men.

Cleveland ran its winning streak to seven straight by downing the New York Yankees 5 to 4 in a 10-inning battle. Lou Gehrig was the batting star of the game getting his 36th home run in the second inning and his 37th in the fourth.

"Bumps" Hadley held the St. Louis Browns to two hits up until the ninth inning when he weakened and allowed three runs which tied the score to cross the plate. The Browns scored another in the tenth and beat the Washington Senators 4 to 3.

Ted Lyons scored his 18th victory of the season as the Chicago White Sox tripped the Boston Red Sox 6 to 4. The White Sox wiped out a 2-run Boston lead in the sixth inning when they got to Danny MacFayden for four runs.

Kansas City, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The Kansas City Blues took two closely played games from the Indianapolis Indians yesterday by scores of 3 to 2 and 5 to 4. A two run rally in the final frame won the second game for the Blues.

Milwaukee, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Milwaukee defeated the league-leading Louisville Colonels here yesterday, but they had to play 11 innings to do it. The score was 1 to 1. Tincup was charged with the Colonels' defeat. It was his second defeat of the season.

St. Paul, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Banging out 25 safeties, St. Paul defeated Toledo 23 to 4 here yesterday, establishing an association record.

Minneapolis, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Minneapolis took the final game of the series from Columbus yesterday, 8 to 2, giving the Millers four victories out of the five-game series.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 23.—(UP)—New Orleans and Long Beach, Calif., will meet in the finals of the all-western junior league baseball tournament today for the right to play in the "little world series" in Memphis, Tenn., next week.

New Orleans scored its first tournament victory yesterday in the opening semi-final game after a hard-fought, 11-inning game with Salina, Kan. The score was 7 to 6. Long Beach had little trouble in trouncing Enderlin, N. D., 14 to 1. Enderlin made seven errors, which accounted for more than half of their opponents' runs. Salvesson, Long Beach, allowed six hits, while his teammates collected 11 off Johansson and Hendrickson, Enderlin pitchers.

CROPS IN DROUGHT AREA AIDED BY HEAVY RAINS

HIGHER PRICES WILL BRING BETTER THAN AVERAGE PROSPERITY

SURVEY ISSUED TODAY BY CORN BELT FARM DAILIES, AGRICULTURAL PUBLICATION

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Crops in many sections of the drought area were aided greatly by rains during the past three weeks and higher prices will bring better than average prosperity to farmers this year, according to a survey issued today by the Corn Belt Farm Dailies, an agricultural publication.

Rains ranging from one to four inches have been general in 15 of the principal states of the corn and wheat belts since August 1, the report said. Corn, seedlings, pastures and fall tilling conditions were reported to have improved with the rains.

"The price outlook is regarded as favorable for the livestock producer," the survey said, "and profits seem certain for some time to come. Better returns than usual should be enjoyed by many farmers."

"Prosperity seems certain wherever corn will yield an average crop or better. Most of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and the northern sections of Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin and Indiana will produce an average yield of grain and sufficient roughage for livestock feed."

The report said farmers would receive larger returns by feeding small grain to livestock than by marketing the grains direct.

2 SPEAKERS ASSASSINATED AT AVELLA, PA.

WERE ADDRESSING ABOUT 150 PERSONS AT A CARNIVAL

GEORGE HARKOFF AND STEVE MINA SLAIN BY THREE BULLETS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—A heckler shot and killed two communist speakers at Avella, Pa., last night when they threatened him for his interference.

The meeting was one of the Sacco-Vanzetti anniversary demonstrations held throughout the country.

The speakers, George Harkoff, 35, and Steve Mina, 40, were addressing about 150 persons at a carnival when their assailant suddenly drew a revolver and fired three bullets into their bodies.

The assassin, who was said by police to be an Italian named Pietro Patrella, alias Petretti, escaped during the excitement. Police later visited his rooms and found a quantity of literature, described as incendiary, and some dynamite. Soldering irons and other tools were found with the explosive.

Residents of Avella, a mining village, knew little of the assailant apparently, police said. The town has many communist sympathizers and has been the scene of several previous clashes.

CROPS IN DROUGHT AREA AIDED BY HEAVY RAINS

HIGHER PRICES WILL BRING BETTER THAN AVERAGE PROSPERITY

SURVEY ISSUED TODAY BY CORN BELT FARM DAILIES, AGRICULTURAL PUBLICATION

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Crops in many sections of the drought area were aided greatly by rains during the past three weeks and higher prices will bring better than average prosperity to farmers this year, according to a survey issued today by the Corn Belt Farm Dailies, an agricultural publication.

Rains ranging from one to four inches have been general in 15 of the principal states of the corn and wheat belts since August 1, the report said. Corn, seedlings, pastures and fall tilling conditions were reported to have improved with the rains.

"The price outlook is regarded as favorable for the livestock producer," the survey said, "and profits seem certain for some time to come. Better returns than usual should be enjoyed by many farmers."

"Prosperity seems certain wherever corn will yield an average crop or better. Most of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and the northern sections of Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin and Indiana will produce an average yield of grain and sufficient roughage for livestock feed."

The report said farmers would receive larger returns by feeding small grain to livestock than by marketing the grains direct.

2 SPEAKERS ASSASSINATED AT AVELLA, PA.

WERE ADDRESSING ABOUT 150 PERSONS AT A CAR-NIVAL

GEORGE HARKOFF AND STEVE MINA SLAIN BY THREE BULLETS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 23.—(U.P.)—A heckler shot and killed two communist speakers at Avella, Pa., last night when they threatened him for his interference.

The meeting was one of the Sacco-Vanzetti anniversary demonstrations held throughout the country.

The speakers, George Harkoff, 35, and Steve Mina, 40, were addressing about 150 persons at a carnival when their assailant suddenly drew a revolver and fired three bullets into their bodies.

The assassin, who was said by police to be an Italian named Pietro Patrella, alias Petroti, escaped during the excitement. Police later visited his rooms and found a quantity of literature, described as incendiary, and some dynamite. Soldering irons and other tools were found with the explosive.

Residents of Avella, a mining village, knew little of the assailant apparently, police said. The town has many communist sympathizers and has been the scene of several previous clashes.

FARMERS TO VACATE UNLESS FIRE CHECKED

Forest Blaze on 14 Mile Front Leaves
Black Desolation of 10,000 Acres

DAMAGE IS TREMENDOUS

Several School Houses Saved by Back-firing; More Men
Needed

Vacation of their homes by many farmers is seen should a backfire started today in a large tract of spruce and balsam fall to check the progress of the forest fire which is raging on a 14 mile front northeast of Emily.

Already one family has been forced to seek protection from the flames at Swatara.

The fire has cut a swath through valuable spruce and balsam laying waste 10,000 acres for an estimated loss of more than $100,000.

Several school houses have been saved by backfiring and the fire is leaving a great area of black desolation which will take 75 years to replace in shape again, E. H. Rhodes, district forest ranger said today.

Dog tired from lack of sleep, their feet, faces and bodies blistered by the heat, 250 firefighters appeared today to be fighting a losing battle against the flames. They looked for immediate rain as the only possible salvation in saving the state damage by fire which may amount into a tremendous figure.

While this fire continued unchecked 20 other fires raged in the district, making the situation the most perilous in years.

Late Friday volunteer men aided by the Brainerd fire department started a back fire saving the buildings of the South Sixth street mine from destruction.

Additional men from power companies have been rushed to the fire region north of Emily to protect the power lines.

Forestry officials were also handicapped by a shortage of men and hampered by farmers who threatened to sue against the state should backfires be started on their properties to check the oncoming fire.

One farmer, sure to be wiped out by the approaching flames, took a critical attitude towards officials who informed him they would be forced to backfire on his land. He informed the officials that he had taken the matter up with an attorney and promised that if the backfire was started he would bring out the sheriff and county attorney and make them stop it.

"Bring out the sheriff and county attorney and we will give them shovels and put them to work," the officials replied.

They started the backfire thus saving the farmer part of his forest. All of it would have burned to the ground if this action had not been taken.

The fire fighting equipment includes tractors used in pulling plows to dig up the ground to keep the fire from going beyond that point.

The fire which started in White Elk township, Aitkin county, by careless blueberry pickers, has extended to touch Crow Wing county in Little Pine township and Buclah township in Cass county.

E. Wood, who was brought to the Northern Pacific sanitarium in this city some three or four weeks ago, suffering with Bright's disease, died last night. Mr. Wood was one of the best known railroad men in northern Minnesota. He had lived in Duluth for about 25 years and at the time of his death was yardmaster at the union depot in Duluth. He was a prominent Mason and a delegation from the Masonic lodge of Duluth came down today to take charge of the remains. They were shipped back to Duluth where the burial will take place.

Notice has been received by Postmaster N. H. Ingersoll that the night mail service on the Superior division has been re-established and the order becomes effective tonight. This will be good news to the business men of Brainerd and other cities and towns on this division and much credit is due the Commercial club of this city which in conjunction with similar clubs in other cities put forth strenuous efforts to have the old service returned.

The residence of Frank Hart in the town of Long Lake was completely destroyed by fire yesterday, the blaze originating from the kitchen stove and the household goods, together with the personal effects of Mrs. George Block, who was visiting the family, were burned. Mr. Hart was severely burned about the hands in endeavoring to save some of the household goods. The family have taken temporary quarters with Theodore Hart until arrangements can be made for their future home. The loss is a severe one to the family.

Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus and Miss Hannah Nelson entertained yesterday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock at the home of the latter, in honor of Miss Hilda Grove, who leaves tomorrow for her future home at Lake Park. INNOVATIONS FOR FLOWER LOVERS

To Greet Visitors to Sixth Annual Exhibition of County Garden Flower Society

AT THE COURT HOUSE

Special Classifications Made, Shadow Boxes to be Used at Show August 28, 29

Visitors to the sixth annual exhibition of the Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society at the court house Thursday and Friday of next week will be greeted with several innovations. In the general classification for gladiolus the names of five or six of the regular prize winners will be missing. These amateurs who have been taking the majority of prizes year after year, have been placed in a special classification and compete for ribbons only. Dr. G. L. Badaux, Geo. Kampmann, Jr., Wm. Turcotte, Dr. L. F. Hawkinson, A. A. Arnold, Mrs. Mabel Carmichael and several others are competing for ribbons only and will not enter their gladiolus in classes No. 1 to 32. This should be an added inducement for everyone to enter their blooms in these classes. This arrangement was made this year by the executive committee in the hopes of stimulating more entries among persons growing only a few gladiolus.

For the first time, shadow boxes will be used at the show. Eight shadow boxes have been made and anyone wishing to decorate a shadow box should make arrangements with the chairman of the house and floor committee. A specimen shadow box is now on display in the lobby of the Paramount theatre. The box itself and the lighting will be uniform, but the flowers, vases and other accessories must be furnished by the exhibitor. The possibilities for artistic arrangement in pre-setting a shadow box picture are unlimited. The only requirement is that it must contain one or more real flowers.

The classes for baskets have been increased, giving a wider range of possibilities for display. They include gladiolus alone, gladiolus with other flowers, dahlias, dahlias with other flowers and garden flowers without either gladiolus or dahlias. In the arrangement of vases, table decorations and bowls, one may let their imagination run at will, there being a classification under which any decoration of this type may be entered. The entries under this group have been improving every year and it is hoped by the committee on arrangements, that we will have enough baskets and vases so that they may be used exclusively in decorating the rotunda or our beautiful court house.

It is not necessary to be a member of the Flower Society to compete for any of the prizes except sweepstakes, which can only be given to members. Anyone wishing to join the society may do so by communicating with the secretary, Mrs. Mabel Carmichael. The dues for the year are one dollar and include a year's subscription to Better Homes and Garden.

CHECK GRASS FIRE LAST NIGHT Flames Ran up to South Sixth Street Mining Property at City Limits Outskirts

A grass fire last evening called out the fire department in addition to forest rangers. Flames crept up along the South Sixth street mine property and for a time endangered the buildings there.

Other small fires reported in the Brainerd district included one in Bruce township of Todd county just east of Long Prairie; one in Pulaski township of Morrison county; and new ones in the vicinity of Tronton, Riverton and Deerwood in Crow Wing county.

Many of the fires being patrolled are peat fires which flare up in a strong wind and to which it is hard to convey water. Rangers where possible are digging them out and building fire lines to burn them out.

GREET FRESHMEN AT UNIVERSITY

District Committee Tell Prospective Students of Class Work, Activities, Etc.

As the opening day of classes at the University of Minnesota swiftly approaches, the Brainerd district committee, a part of the general Freshman Week committee, is concentrating its efforts on organizing the high school graduates who plan to attend the university during the next term.

The district committee members, all of whom are upperclassmen at the university, tell the prospective students of class work, activities, and general campus life. The prime duty of the upperclassmen is to advise and help the new student in all the problems which confront him.

In addition he is told of the welcome which has been prepared by the group on the campus. This welcome will extend through the period from September 24 to 27, known as Freshman Week. On those days the 150 students who comprise the Freshman Week committee assume complete charge of the new students, helping them to get acquainted with spots of interest and with those who will be their classmates for the next few years.

One of the first things the Freshman Week committee undertook to do was to select a slogan which would suitably explain its purpose and express its desire to be of the greatest assistance to the freshman. "Your Aid—Our Aim" was the slogan chosen, and this is to become a permanent tradition of the university.

The Big Sisters, an organization of women who are assisting the Freshman Week committee in its work, have sent out thousands of letters of welcome to prospective coeds. These letters establish a valuable campus contact for the new student.

During the first two days of the week prior to the beginning of classes, the freshman students will devote their time to registration, entrance examinations, etc. Upperclassmen will be stationed in booths throughout the entire campus to help the Freshmen straighten out the problems of curriculum which are bound to arise.

On Wednesday the Freshman Week committee will become more active. Tours of both St. Paul and Minneapolis campuses and perhaps of interesting spots in other parts of the Twin Cities have been arranged. These will be conducted continuously all week. Get-togethers will be held for men and women at various times during the week. Tens, mixers, and other entertainment are planned. All the churches on the campus will be allotted one night on which they can hold some meetings or entertainment of their own. Every denomination is requested to invite the new students to its initial program.

The week will be wound up with a gigantic carnival which is to be staged in the Field House on the Saturday before classes are resumed. Both men and women students are to be invited to this affair which is free to all freshmen.

Every type of amusement will be provided. Every possible effort will be expended to help the new students get acquainted with one another and with those upperclassmen who attend the carnival. Balloons, colorful decorations, hot dog stands, side shows, and many other attractions will lend the carnival air.

A section of the mammoth floor of the Field House will be roped off to permit dancing. This feature is called the "Jitney Whirl," and it will be handled accordingly. A prominent band is to furnish the music for the dancing.

A grass fire last evening called out the fire department in addition to forest rangers. Flames crept up along the South Sixth street mine property and for a time endangered the buildings there.

Other small fires reported in the Brainerd district included one in Bruce township of Todd county just east of Long Prairie; one in Pulaski township of Morrison county; and new ones in the vicinity of Ironton, Riverton and Deerwood in Crow Wing county.

Many of the fires being patrolled are peat fires which flare up in a strong wind and to which it is hard to convey water. Rangers where possible are digging them out and building fire lines to burn them out.

Brainerd's 22 young men at the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Fort Snelling are making a very fine impression. L. L. Peterson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., reports on his return from a visit there and after a discussion with camp officials.

Carl Holvick has qualified as a sharpshooter by scoring over 95 per cent while the other 21 qualified as marksmen, scoring better than 78 per cent.

The boys will return to this city next week-end. They have been in camp now 20 days.

GREET FRESHMEN AT UNIVERSITY

District Committee Tell Prospective
Students of Class Work, Activities, Etc.

As the opening day of classes at the University of Minnesota swiftly approaches, the Brainerd district committee, a part of the general Freshman Week committee, is concentrating its efforts on organizing the high school graduates who plan to attend the university during the next term.

The district committee members, all of whom are upperclassmen at the university, tell the prospective students of class work, activities, and general campus life. The prime duty of the upperclassmen is to advise and help the new student in all the problems which confront him.

In addition he is told of the welcome which has been prepared by the group on the campus. This welcome will extend through the period from September 24 to 27, known as Freshman Week. On those days the 150 students who comprise the Freshman Week committee assume complete charge of the new students, helping them to get acquainted with spots of interest and with those who will be their classmates for the next few years.

One of the first things the Freshman Week committee undertook to do was to select a slogan which would suitably explain its purpose and express its desire to be of the greatest assistance to the freshmen. "Your Aid—Our Aim" was the slogan chosen, and this is to become a permanent tradition of the university.

The Big Sisters, an organization of women who are assisting the Freshman Week committee in its work, have sent out thousands of letters of welcome to prospective coeds. These letters establish a valuable campus contact for the new student.

During the first two days of the week prior to the beginning of classes, the freshmen students will devote their time to registration, entrance examinations, etc. Upperclassmen will be stationed in booths throughout the entire campus to help the freshmen straighten out the problems of curriculum which are bound to arise.

On Wednesday the Freshman Week committee will become more active. Tours of both St. Paul and Minneapolis campuses and perhaps of interesting spots in other parts of the Twin Cities have been arranged. These will be conducted continuously all week.

Get-togethers will be held for men and women at various times during the week. Teas, mixers, and other entertainment are planned. All the churches on the campus will be allotted one night on which they can hold some meetings or entertainment of their own. Every denomination is requested to invite the new students to its initial program.

The week will be wound up with a gigantic carnival which is to be staged in the Field House on the Saturday before classes are resumed. Both men and women students are to be invited to this affair which is free to all freshmen.

Every type of amusement will be provided. Every possible effort will be expended to help the new students get acquainted with one another and with those upperclassmen who attend the carnival. Balloons, colorful decorations, hot dog stands, side shows, and many other attractions will lend the carnival air.

A section of the mammoth floor of the Field House will be roped off to permit dancing. This feature is called the "Jitney Whirl," and it will be handled accordingly. A prominent band is to furnish the music for the dancing.

Entertains at Dinner

Miss Edna Kincaid entertained at dinner last night at her home in the Jewel block. Her guests were Miss Mary Jane Thompson, Miss Grace Clark and Miss Lois Hanson.

"The SEA BRIDE"

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

THE ROMANCE OF AN EVENTFUL WHALING CRUISE

FAITH KILCUP marries Captain Noll Wing, skipper of the Whaler, "Sally Sims," a man much older than herself.

CHAPTER II

She had always dreamed of being married before this great fire in her father's home. She herself had chosen these logs, and under her eye her brother, Roy, had borne them into the house and laid them upon the small stuff and kindling she had prepared. She had wanted that fire to spring to life as she and Noll Wing were married; she had thought of it as a symbol of the new life that was beginning for her and for her husband. She was terribly disappointed.

In that first pang she looked helplessly about for Noll. She wanted comfort pitifully. But Noll was laughing in the doorway, talking with old Jonathan Felt, the owner of his vessel. He had not heard, he did not see her glance. Bess Holt cried:

"Somebody light it quick! Roy Kilcup, give me a match. I'll light it myself. Don't look, Faith! Oh, what a shame!"

Roy knew how his sister had counted on that fire.

"I'll bet Faith doesn't feel as though she were really married," he laughed. "Not without a fire going. Do you, Faith? Better do it over, Dr. Brant."

Someone said it was bad luck; a dozen voices cried the someone down. Then, while they were all talking about it, round-faced Dan Tobey went down on his knees and lighted the fire that was to have illumined Faith's wedding.

Faith, her hand at her throat, looked for Noll again, but he and old Jonathan had gone out to that ancient demijohn of cherry rum. Dan was looking hungrily at her; a hungry for thanks. She smiled at him. They were all pressing around her again.

Faith's luggage had already gone aboard. When she and Jim and Bess reached the wharf the others were at the tables under the boathouse, aft. They rose and pledged Faith in lifted glasses. Then Faith sat down beside her husband, at the head of the board, and old Jim settled morosely beside her. They ate and drank merrily.

Faith was very happy, dreamily happy. She felt the big presence of her husband at her side, and she lifted her head with pride in him, and in his ship which he commanded. He was a man. Once or twice she marked her father's silence, and once she touched his knee with her hand lightly, in comfort. Cap'n Wing made a speech. They called on Jim, but Jim was in no mind for chatter. They called on Faith; she rose and smiled at them, and said how happy she was, and laid her hand on her husband's shoulder proudly.

Roy came, running, after a time. And a little later the tug whistled from the stream, and Cap'n Wing looked over his shoulder and lifted his hands.

"Friends," he said joyously, "I'd like to take you all along. Come if you want. But—tides in. Them as don't want to go along had best be getting ashore."

Thus it was ended—that wedding-supper on the deck, in the late afternoon, while the flags floated overhead and the gulls screamed across the refuse-dotted waters of the harbor and the tide whirled and eddied about the piles. Thus it was ended.

Old Jim kissed her first of all, kissed her roundly, crushing her to his breast, and she whispered, in his close embrace:

All right, I'll bring you home—" He kissed her again, cutting short her promise. Kissed her and thrust her away, and stumped ashore and went stockily off along the wharf and out of sight, never looking back. A solitary figure, somewhat to be pitied, for all his broad shoulders and his old head.

The others waited, calling, laughing, crying, while the "Sally Sims" was torn loose from her moorings. Cap'n Wing was another man now; he was never one to leave his ship to another's care. Faith thought proudly. His commands rang through the still air of late afternoon; his eye saw the hawseers cast off, saw the tug take hold.

The "Sally Sims" moved. She moved so fast that at first one must watch a fixed point upon the wharf to be sure she moved at all. Men were in the rigging now, setting the big square sails. The wind began to tug at them. The voice of the mate, Mr. Ham, roared up to the men in profane commands. Cap'n Wing stood stockily on wide-spreading legs, watching, joining his voice now and then to the uproar.

The sea presently opened out before them, inviting them, offering all its wide expanses to the "Sally Sims" blunt bow. The "Sally" began to lift and tilt awkwardly. The tug had long since dropped behind; they shaped their course for where the night came up ahead of them. They sailed steadily eastward into the gathering gloom.

"Mr. Tobey!" bawled Cap'n Wing.

Dan came aft to where Faith stood with her husband. He did not look at her, so that Faith was faintly disquieted. The captain pointed to the litter of planks and boxes and dishes and food where the wedding supper had been laid. Faith watched dreamily, happily. She had loved that last gathering with the friends of her girlhood. There was something sacred to her, in this moment, even in the ugly debris that remained.

But not to Cap'n Wing. He said harshly in his voice of a master: "Have that trash cleared up, Mr. Tobey. Sharp, now."

Trash! Faith was faintly unhappy at the word. Dan bawled to the men, and half a dozen of them came shuffling aft. She touched her husband's arm.

"I'm going below now, Noll," she whispered to him.

He nodded.

"Get to bed," he said. "I'll be down."

He had not looked at her; he was watching Dan and the men. For two weeks past Faith had been much aboard the "Sally Sims," making ready the tiny quarters that were to be her home. When she came down into the cabin now it was with a sense of familiarity.

The plain table, built about the butt of the mizenmast, the chairs, the swinging, whale-oil lamps—these were old friends, waiting to replace those other friends she had left behind in her bedroom at home. She stood for a moment at the foot of the cabin-companion, looking about her, and she smiled faintly, her hand at her throat.

She was not lonely, not homesick, not sorry. But her smile seemed to appeal to these inanimate surroundings to be good to her.

Then she crossed the cabin quietly and went into the smaller compartment, which was used by Cap'n Wing for his books, his instruments, his infrequent hours of leisure. This ran almost entirely across the stern of the ship, but it was little more than a corridor. The captain's cabin was on the starboard side, opening off this corridorlike compartment. There was scant room aft aboard the Sally Sims. The four officers bunked two by two in cabins opening off the main cabin; the mate had no room to himself. And by the same token, there was no possibility of giving Faith separate quarters. There were two bunks in the captain's cabin, one above the other. The upper had been built in during the last two weeks. That was all.

Faith had not protested. She was content that Noll was hers; the rest did not matter. She found a measure of glory in the thought that she must endure some hardships to be at his side while her man did his work in the world. She was, after the first pang, glad that she must make a tiny chest and a few nails serve her for wardrobe and dressing-room; she was glad that she must sleep on a thing like a shelf built into the wall, instead of her high, soft bed with the canopy at home. She was glad—glad for life—glad for Noll—glad for everything.

She began quietly to prepare herself for bed. And while she loosened her heavy hair and began the long, easy brushing that kept it so glossy and smooth, her thoughts ran back over the swift, warm rapture of her awakening love for Noll. Big Noll Wing—her husband now; she his bride.

She had always worshiped Noll, even while she was still a schoolgirl, her skirts short, her hair in a long, thick braid. Noll was a heroic figure, a great man who appeared at intervals from the distances of ocean, and moved majestically about the little world of the town and then was gone again. The man had had the gift of drama; his deeds held that element which lifted them above mere exploits and made them romance. When he was third mate of the old Bertha, a crazy islander tried to knife him and fleshed his blade in Noll Wing's shoulder from behind. Noll had wrenched around and broken the man's neck with a twist of his hands.

He had always been a hard man with his hands, a strong man, perhaps a brutal man. Faith, hearing only glorified whispers of these matters, had dreamed of the strength of him. She saw this strength not as a physical thing, but as a thing spiritual. No one man could rule other men unless he ruled them by a superior moral strength, she knew. She loved to think of Noll's strength. Her breath had caught in ecstasy of pain that night he first held her close against his great chest till she thought her own ribs would crack.

Not Noll's strength alone was famous. He had been a great captain, a great man for oil. His maiden voyage as skipper of his own ship made that reputation for the man. He set sail, ran forth, with into a very sea of whales, worked night and day, and returned in three days short of three months with a cargo worth thirty-seven thousand dollars. A cargo that other men took three years to harvest from the fat fields of the sea; took three years to harvest, and then were like as not to boast of the harvesting. Oh, Noll Wing was a master hand for sperm oil; a master skipper as ever sailed the seas.

"The SEA BRIDE"

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

THE ROMANCE OF AN EVENTFUL WHALING CRUISE

FAITH KILCUP marries Captain Noll Wing, skipper of the Whaler, "Sally Sims," a man much older than herself.

CHAPTER II

HE had always dreamed of being married before this great fire in her father's home. She herself had chosen these logs, and under her eye her brother, Roy, had borne them into the house and laid them upon the small stuff and kindling she had prepared. She had wanted that fire to spring to life as she and Noll Wing were married; she had thought of it as a symbol of the new life that was beginning for her and for her husband. She was terribly disappointed.

In that first pang she looked helplessly about for Noll. She wanted comfort pitifully. But Noll was laughing in the doorway, talking with old Jonathan Felt, the owner of his vessel. He had not heard, he did not see her glance. Bess Holt cried:

"Somebody light it quick! Roy Kilcup, give me a match. I'll light it myself. Don't look, Faith! Oh, what a shame!"

Roy knew how his sister had counted on that fire.

"I'll bet Faith doesn't feel as though she were really married," he laughed. "Not without a fire going. Do you, Faith? Better do it over, Dr. Brant."

Someone said it was bad luck; a dozen voices cried the someone down. Then, while they were all talking about it, round-faced Dan'l Tobey went down on his knees and lighted the fire that was to have illumined Faith's wedding.

Faith, her hand at her throat, looked for Noll again, but he and old Jonathan had gone, and the ancient demijohn of cherry rum, Dan'l was looking hungrily at her, hungry for thanks. She smiled at him. They were all pressing around her again.

Faith's luggage had already gone aboard. When she and Jem and Bess reached the wharf the others were at the tables under the boathouse, aft. They rose and pledged Faith in lifted glasses. Then Faith sat down beside her husband, at the head of the board, and old Jem settled morosely beside her. They ate and drank merrily.

Faith was very happy, dreamily happy. She felt the best presence of her husband at her side, and she lifted her head with pride in him, and in his ship which he commanded. He was a man. Once or twice she marked her father's silence, and once she touched his knee with her hand lightly, in comfort. Cap'n Wing made a speech. They called on Jem, but Jem was in no mind for chatter. They called on Faith; she rose and smiled at them, and said how happy she was, and laid her hand on her husband's shoulder proudly.

Roy came, running, after a time. And a little later the tug whistled from the stream, and Cap'n Wing looked over his shoulder and stood up and lifted his hands.

"Friends," he said jocosely, "I'd like to take you all along. Come if you want. But—tidy's in. Them as don't want to go along had best be getting ashore."

Thus it was ended—that wedding-supper on the deck, in the late afternoon, while the flags floated overhead and the gulls screamed across the refuse-dotted waters of the harbor and the tide whirled and eddied about the piles. Thus it was ended.

Old Jem kissed her first of all, kissed her roundly, crushing her to his breast, and she whispered, in his close embrace:

All right. I'll bring you home—"

He kissed her again, cutting short her promise. Kissed her and thrust her away, and stumped ashore and went stockily off along the wharf and out of sight, never looking back. A solitary figure, somewhat to be pitied, for all his broad shoulders, and his old head.

The others in their turn. Then everyone waited, calling, laughing, crying, while the "Sally Sims" was torn loose from her moorings. Cap'n Wing was another man now; he was never one to leave his ship to another's care, Faith thought proudly. His commands rang through the still air of late afternoon; his eye saw the hawsers cast off, saw the tug take hold.

The "Sally Sims" moved. She moved so slowly that at first one must watch a fixed point upon the wharf to be sure she moved at all. Men were in the rigging now, setting the big, square sails. The wind began to tug at them. The voice of the mate, Mr. Ham, roared up to the men in profane commands. Cap'n Wing stood stockily on wide-spaced legs, watching, joining his voice now and then to the uproar.

The sea presently opened out before them, inviting them, offering all its wide expanses to the "Sally Sims' blunt bow. The "Sally" began to lift and tilt awkwardly. The tug had long since dropped behind; they shaped their course for where the night came up ahead of them. They sailed steadily eastward into the gathering gloom.

"Mr. Tobey!" bawled Cap'n Wing.

Dan'l came aft to where Faith stood with her husband. He did not look at her, so that Faith was faintly disquieted. The captain pointed to the litter of planks and boxes and dishes and food where the wedding supper had been laid. Faith watched dreamily, happily. She had loved that last gathering with the friends of her girlhood. There was something sacred to her, in this moment, even in the ugly debris that remained.

But not to Cap'n Wing. He said harshly in his voice of a master: "Have that trash cleared up, Mr. Tobey. Sharp, now."

Trash! Faith was faintly unhappy at the word. Dan'l bawled to the men, and half a dozen of them came shuffling aft. She touched her husband's arm.

"I'm going below now, Noll," she whispered to him.

"Get to bed," he said. "I'll be down."

He had not looked at her; he was watching Dan'l and the men.

For two weeks past Faith had been much aboard the "Sally Sims," making ready the tiny quarters that were to be her home. When she came down into the cabin now it was with a sense of familiarity. The plain table, built about the butt of the mizenmast, the chairs, the swinging, whale-oil lamps—these were old friends, waiting to replace those other friends she had left behind in her bedroom at home. She stood for a moment at the foot of the cabin-companion, looking about her, and she smiled faintly, her hand at her throat.

She was not lonely, not homesick, not sorry. But her smile seemed to appeal to these inanimate surroundings to be good to her.

Then she crossed the cabin quietly and went into the smaller compartment, which was used by Cap'n Wing for his books, his instruments, his infrequent hours of leisure. This ran almost entirely across the stern of the ship, but it was little more than a corridor.

The captain's cabin was on the starboard side, opening off this corridorlike compartment. There was scant room aft aboard the Sally Sims. The four officers bunked two by two in cabins opening off the main cabin; the mate had no room to himself. And by the same token, there was no possibility of giving Faith separate quarters. There were two bunks in the captain's cabin, one above the other. The upper had been built in during the last two weeks. That was all.

Faith had not protested. She was content that Noll was hers; the rest did not matter. She found a measure of glory in the thought that she must endure some hardships to be at his side while her man did his work in the world. She was, after the first pangs, glad that she must make a tiny chest and a few nails serve her for wardrobe and dressing-room; she was glad that she must sleep on a thing like a shelf built into the wall, instead of her high, soft bed with the canopy at home. She was glad—glad for life—glad for Noll—glad for everything.

She began quietly to prepare herself for bed. And while she loosened her heavy hair and began the long, easy brushing that kept it so glossy and smooth, her thoughts ran back over the swift, warm rapture of her awakening love for Noll. Big Noll Wing—her husband now; she his bride.

She had always worshiped Noll, even while she was still a schoolgirl, her skirts short, her hair in a long, thick braid. Noll was a heroic figure, a great man who appeared at intervals from the distances of ocean, and moved majestically about the little world of the town and then was gone again. The man had had the gift of drama; his deeds held that element which lifted them above mere exploits and made them romance. When he was third mate of the old Bertha, a crazy islander tried to knife him and fleshed his blade in Noll Wing's shoulder from behind. Noll had wrenched around and broken the man's neck with a twist of his hands.

He had always been a hard man with his hands, a strong man, perhaps a brutal man. Faith, hearing only glorified whispers of these matters, had dreamed of the strength of him. She saw this strength not as a physical thing, but as a thing spiritual. No one man could rule other men unless he ruled them by a superior moral strength, she knew. She loved to think of Noll's strength. Her breath had caught in ecstasy of pain that night he first held her close against his great chest till she thought her own ribs would crack.

Not Noll's strength alone was famous. He had been a great captain, a great man for oil. His maiden voyage as skipper of his own ship made that reputation for the man. He set sail, ran forth with into a very sea of whales, worked night and day, and returned in three days short of three months with a cargo worth thirty-seven thousand dollars. A cargo that other men took three years to harvest from the fat fields of the sea; took three years to harvest, and then were like as not to boast of the harvesting. Oh, Noll Wing was a master hand for sperm oil; a master skipper as ever sailed the seas.
